NEW E-VOICE TOOLS PROVIDE RESULTS, OPTIONS AND SAVINGS!

Voice Connection has spent the last year adding specific capabilities designed to integrate with your back office applications and the web!

Our goal has been to leverage customer and market feedback, designing systems that reduce costs and optimize execution on specific types of repetitive inbound or outbound calls and notification..

New Capabilities

With the capabilities represented in our platform and engineering experience, we can also coordinate services that lock step with sales contact, marketing campaigns and communications with creditors, prospects and customers.

With the capabilities to use voice, email and the internet , we have assembled a range of solutions that can be customized and applied to your specific HR, infrastructure and software domains.

More with Less

Increasingly, CFOs and operations VP understand the requirement to consider our managed services and applications to reduce total cost of ownership, while continuing to innovate in making it easier for customers and prospects to respond to "passive" notification as it relates to designing an effective communication fabric, anticipating the customers' needs, while building confidence in your team's commitment.

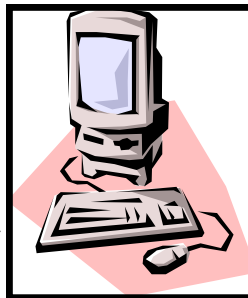

Let us Help!

While this technology sound great, we understand you may need some assistance in assembling a solution from our various capabilities.

First, take a look at our new website above for more detail on the applications. Then give us a call at the 800 and confirm a time when we can host a webinar to talk in more detail about your situation and potential way to integrate or customer applications that cost-effectively meet and exceed your expectations.

We go Deep!

Our 40 years of telecommunications experience will permit intelligent solutions to drive innovation and your success!

Web and Intelligent Voice Integration is finally here and affordable.
